

El Don Plans Experimental "Pony" Issue For Overseas Mailing This Month

Believed to be the first experiment of its kind in collegiate journalism, El Don today completed arrangements to issue a special "pony" edition for overseas mailing this month. The miniature paper will be of letter paper size, 4 1/2 by 11 inches, and will contain four pages of material photographed from recent issues of the campus newspaper.

The London Daily Mail pioneered in the "pony" field last year by inaugurating a miniature weekly transatlantic edition for readers in the United States, and the Chicago Tribune and other newspapers are now publishing similar editions for men overseas. Both Time and Newsweek magazines also issue "pony" editions for those in the service.

El Don's experimental paper will be mailed overseas with the January issue of jaysee's Don Letter-of-the-Month which now goes to 1200 former students scattered throughout the world. About 300 additional copies of the special edition will be prepared for campus distribution.

When it materializes, the miniature issue will add another "first" to El Don's long list of innovations in the junior college publishing field during the past ten years.

The Santa Ana campus paper was the first among jaysees to adopt the ragged news headline, following the lead of the Los Angeles Daily News some years ago. The local paper was also the first among jaysee's to give its readers late worldwide photographs, and in 1940 printed the first perfumed advertisement. The latter experiment was completed here with the aid of the Rankin Dry Goods Company.

Copies of El Don's "pony" issue will be available for distribution about Jan. 20, according to present plans. If the venture is successful, another miniature issue may be published later in the year.

Trustees Order Purchase of New College Site

Jaysee Building Plans Speeded

Immediate action on purchase of the southwest corner of 17th and Bristol streets for a new college campus was assured today as the Board of Education prepared to direct offers to owners who now hold the desired property.

The motion to acquire the proposed site and speed campus development was made by the Rev. George Busdiecker, immediate past president of the Board. It was seconded by Daniel Stover and passed at an adjourned meeting of the trustees held Wednesday afternoon.

One of the next steps will be to appoint an architect to lay out a master plan for the new campus, it was said.

Negotiations for purchase of the property will begin at once. The site consists of nine parcels of land totalling 45 acres. The present college campus contains only slightly more than two acres.

Jaysee has been housed in temporary quarters at Tenth and Main streets since 1933 when an earthquake wrecked the former plant at Walnut and Ross streets.

Frank Errota In Service

Frank Errota, El Don sports editor and author of Column Left withdrew from jaysee Thursday, Jan. 4, for military service. Frank, a player on the Dons basketball team, was graduated from Tustin Union high school, where his team took the 1944 Orange League championship.

Frank received his first training in journalism on the Tustin high school paper where he wrote sports. He covered the entire Don football season, writing not only his column, but a complete page of sports news.

Fred Shand replaced Errota this week as sports editor of the campus paper.

Native Of China Guest Speaker At Assembly

How to swing, swim, and sing in Chinese rhythm will be divulged at the final assembly of the semester, Wednesday, Jan. 17, when the Rev. Philip Yung Lee will feature with native music an address on China and the future of the country.

Dr. Lee is now in charge of the Chinese Presbyterian church in Los Angeles. He was born in Canton, educated at Soochow University and served, after coming to the U.S., as minister of the Chinese Community church of Chicago.

He returned to China in 1929 to become director of the radio station at Shanghai. In 1941 he again entered the U.S. and assumed charge of his present pastorate.

"We anticipate a real treat in this assembly," Mr. Ernest Crozier Phillips, director of assemblies, said today.

Margaret Griset Del Ano Editor

Del Ano editor in chief, Margaret Griset, said today that plans for the year book are underway. Editors have been appointed, a snap shot contest opened and plans for the theme, which will be kept secret, perfected. Miss Frances Egge is faculty adviser for the publication.

Staff appointments are: Laura Landrum, snap shot editor; Romayne Kern, activity editor; Earline Vite, sophomore editor; Mary Harding, clubs; Jeanette Shook, women's sports; Fred Shand, business manager; Jackie Townsend, business manager; Iris Iverson, art editor; Glen Lawrence, men's sports.

Faculty, class, night school, and publication editors will be selected in the near future.

Del Ano Conducts Snap-shot Contest

Jaysee candid shots of dons and donnas, scenes on the campus and of jaysee social life off the campus will be entered in a campus-wide contest for place in Del Ano, Laura Landrum announced today.

The contest opens today and will be open until sometime in late spring. Prints and negatives must be submitted to Laura Landrum, photography editor of Del Ano. Negatives will be returned after they have been used by the staff.

English Club To Hear Late Play Review

Mrs. Mona Summers Smith, well-known in this city as a reviewer of plays and prominent in the work of the Santa Ana Community Players, will be the guest speaker for Tavern Tattlers, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Smith will present "Spring Green" by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements.

Student Election Next Wednesday

Once again the question "Boy or girl" will be raised in the primary election next Wednesday when the college votes on officers for the Associated Students. Margaret Griset who now fills the office of president is running for re-election. Bob Miller, defeated candidate for the office in October, is a second candidate for the presidency. Gertrude Kinzey is also in the race for the highest office.

Laura Landrum is the only candidate for vice-president.

The position of secretary-treasurer will fall to one of two women—Amelia de Leon or Doris Franzen.

Following Wednesday's primaries, the finals will be held Friday, Jan. 19.

Margaret Griset, Laura Landrum, and Amelia de Leon comprise the "Progressive Students Party" candidates and urge students to vote a straight party ticket. "Our aim is to get every Oh Pshaw! Senior Group Just Forgets All About the Jaysee?

Was it done on purpose? Students and faculty members were asking that question today following recent publication of a pamphlet by the Senior Chamber of Commerce which completely ignores the fact that Santa Ana has a junior college. The Chamber's brochure located the high school on its city map but forgot all about the jaysee up here at Tenth and Main streets. The writeup about city schools (seven lines) also omits any mention of the college.

The publicity brochures may be secured at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, 209 Church street.

New Play Rivals Shakespeare's Macbeth In Thrills of Horror

"It curls your hair, chills your blood, has you wearing the arms of your chair with a nervous grip," critic Katherine Smith says of "Nine Girls," a modern mystery thriller which the drama class under the direction of Mr. Ernest Crozier Phillips, will present early in the second semester.

"Nine Girls," a play in a prologue and two acts by Wilford H. Pettitt was first copyrighted in 1942 with the title of "This Little Land." In 1943 it was revised and produced at the Long Acre theater in New York City on Jan. 13.

The action is laid in California and the time is the present. The cast is comprised entirely of women. "This is my first play I have ever directed in which no man, not even a butler, plays a role," Mr. Phillips stated, in speaking of "Nine Girls."

The following students will appear in the cast: Wanda Parsons, Mary Tozier, Joyce Chase, Geraldine Hoganson, Rose Marie Meric, Bobbie Thwaite, Corinna Barnett, Romayne Kern, and Doris Bauhard.

Lt. Charles Williams Killed In Action

Lt. Charles Williams lost his life Dec. 10, in Italy, according to a War Department telegram.

A fighter pilot, the Santa Anan had previously flown C-47's. He later was transferred to the Thunderbolts, and had been overseas since December, 1943. A junior college graduate, Lt. Williams had his flight training at Santa Ana Army Air base, Ontario, Taft, and was graduated from Luke Field, Nov., 1943.

YW To Conduct Drive For Chinese Relief

The YWCA will conduct their annual drive for the Chinese Student Relief Fund following the assembly featuring Rev. Philip Yung Lee Wednesday, Jan. 17, Mrs. Gail Smith, YW adviser said today.

She pointed out that three cents per day keeps a Chinese student in school and that all contributions, no matter how small will be of great assistance to the struggling Chinese youth.

In the past the college has supported the YW drives for the Chinese Student Relief Fund, and the organization itself has contributed liberally from its treasury.

Peace-Time Conscription

Strong opposition is rolling up against the plan of congressional leaders to seek immediate action on legislation regarding peace time conscription. President Roosevelt is urging that Congress pass such a measure soon, but he has not said whether he thinks it should be a straight military training program, or should be designed along the lines of the former C.C.C.

The basic idea is that every young man between the approximate ages of 18-23 should give at least one year of service to the government. "At least" one year could mean two years, three years, or even more.

Such a measure runs counter to American traditions and to well established political beliefs of the country. Our democracy was founded on the principle that the government should serve the people. A peace-time draft measure would make the American people serve the government.

The many young men being graduated from high schools would be deprived of the opportunity to enter immediately upon study for their desired and intended profession, and the colleges, which have suffered during war-time would experience an even greater decline. Many believe that the program isn't actually needed since methods of war change rapidly and the training would soon be obsolete. Others believe that the Boy Scouts or similar youth groups could be used to a better advantage.

History has proved that democracy and militarism are incompatible. We are fighting for world freedom. Let's not lose it here!—L.B.

'.... There's a War On'

"Don't you know there's a war on?" Ever heard that expression?

A little, old, grey-haired lady asked a salesgirl in a local store for "shears." Without retarding the furious speeding of her gum chewing the clerk threw over her shoulder, "Heavens no! Say, don't you know there's a war on." The old lady turned away. Her throat throbbed with a stifling ache. Before her eyes swam the telegram of the week before . . . "We regret to inform you . . ." Yes, she knew there was a war on!

Farther down the street a young man with an empty sleeve hanging at his side was waiting in line to enter a cafe. As he started to go in, the door closed. A placard announced, "Out of Food!" The crowd behind him protested in disgust and disappointment. A waitress hastily reopened the door and yelled coarsely, "Don't you know there's a war on." The young Marine glanced down at the Purple Heart, won in the service of his country. It had lost its glow!

The present world situation demands and will demand sacrifices on the part of all of us. Before we express in words our annoyance over some slight deprivation, let us pause and put to ourselves the question: "Do we know there's a war on!"

(Editor's Note—The above editorial was written by Jane Meagher, a cadet nurse night school student in English 1A. We are grateful for the contribution and welcome all material submitted by either day or night school students.)

DEAR DON

Dear Editor,

Several students are now running for A. S. offices, but had I not had a petition stuck in my face, I should never have known there was an election on. Does this college always conduct clandestine elections? Students from out of town have a difficult time at best in getting acquainted with school leaders and in ascertaining who is best qualified to hold office. Under the present system it is possible for thoroughly incompetent persons to be elected. There are no speeches, campaigns, statements of policies or competition.

We have no chance to know what is going on.

In hopes of a reformed election procedure.

A Lost Freshman

Dear Lost Freshman,

The best solution, as we see it, would be for the students to demand a nomination assembly. This is provided for in our constitution. At such a meeting the qualifications and experience of candidates are stated by those nominating them. In accepting a nomination, a candidate must present a definite platform. The assembly gives all students an opportunity to see and hear all candidates. It then becomes the work of the voters to carry on a campaign for candidates of their choice.

Eight From Jaysee Attend Conference Of Colleges

Three faculty members and five executive board members attended the Eastern Division Conference at Fullerton yesterday. Post-war changes in the social and educational fields of colleges which plan to meet the needs of returned veterans occupied the attention of the delegates. "What type of educational program will the men wish after they return," proved to be the main point considered, Margaret Grisette, who summarized the afternoon discussions for the group stated.

Following the afternoon meeting representatives from the various colleges dined together at the California hotel.

Delegates attended from Pomona, Riverside, Citrus, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, and Fullerton colleges.

Santa Ana was represented by Director McCoy, Miss Agness Todd Miller, dean of women, Mr. Ernest Crozier Philips, dean of men, Margaret Grisette, president of Associated Students, Bob Miller, social commissioner, Don Butler, vice-president, Doris Franzen, representative from A.W.S., and Lois Bogardus, secretary of A. S.

Following the established custom of past executive boards, the officers of Associated Students will mark the end of their labors together as an official body with a trip to Laguna Beach Friday, Jan. 17. Plans have been made for dinner at the Victor Hugo, secretary Lois Bogardus said today.

MY PLATFORM

I stand for more school spirit in participation of school activities, and student backing of the Board of Education in acquiring a new Santa Ana Junior College.

Pickering Chosen On All-star Team

Jack Pickering, Don high point man for the Modesto Tournament was selected on the all-tournament team. Jack was chosen because of his "dead-eye" which led the Dons to second place position in the tournament.

To Train Or—?

In planning the post-war world, should the United States make provisions for a year of military training for all young men eighteen years of age and older? Should young men graduating from high school have military instruction before going to college or to work?

Military leaders and the President of the United States have given affirmative answers to these questions. The American Legion has also endorsed such a plan. So important a matter must occupy all minds in the near future. El Don will from time to time print campus opinions on the subject.

Replies to the question "Do you approve of compulsory military training in times of peace?" are given below.

Pfc. Herbert Baird of the U. S. Army now in France—Contrary to my ideas before entering the service, I do approve of compulsory military training for every young man in the nation. I have been greatly benefited by it physically.

Elizabeth Baker—I am against it because it is the same movement that started in Germany. It would be expensive, and it would stir up great resentment on the part of the youth whose careers and education would be interrupted.

Irma Robertson—I think it is a very good idea. It equips young men to live together and in other surroundings than home. It tends to give us protection against future wars. However, I think they need more than a year's training.

Louanne Acree—I think that if we are to have military training in peace time, it should be given to boys while in high school and they should not be taken out of school for the training.

Mary Harding—The idea isn't democratic. It would mean forcing people to do things that they don't want to do.

Jackie Townsend—I am against the idea. I think the plan is against the ideals of American democracy which we were brought up on.

Carolyn Hager—It should be voluntary. If they attend college they are subject to ROTC; if they choose to work, they need not take such training.

Jeanne Hendrie—Optional. It should not be forced upon boys leaving high school.

Dorothy Hamilton—It is unfair to boys leaving high school; a trend away from democracy.

News of Service Clubs

SPINSTERS

At the Spinster meeting Monday night, the highlight of approaching activities was discussed, the rummage sale. Proceeds from last year's sale were used to redecorate the Women's lounge.

Election of officers is to be held at the club's next meeting, according to Jackie Townsend, president.

LAS GITANAS

Past, present, and future were delved into by Mrs. Kay Dean when Las Gitanas met at the home of Shirley Heaston Monday night. Mrs. Dean reviewed her many experiences in fortune telling and demonstrated the art by reading the girls' palms.

President Gertie Kinzey conducted a short business meeting. Root beer floats and cookies were served by the hostess.

PILOTEERS

To date the Piloteers have sold 1665 dollars worth of war bonds 500 dollars beyond the quota set for purchasing a jeep. Helen Asher, bond chairman, announced today. Plans are underway for a bigger and better war bond campaign next semester," Helen said.

She also stated that a surprise concerning the bond booth in College Hall will be revealed soon.

Purple Heart Awarded Civilian

Secretary of the Navy, James V. Forrestal, announced the last week in December that Jack Singer of International News Service, who was killed by one of the torpedoes which sank the Wasp, will be awarded the Purple Heart by the United States Navy in a precedent-setting action.

The news of the Naval award brings the war especially close to Director McCoy of Santa Ana Junior college, as Jack Singer, when a student in Manual Arts high school of Los Angeles, was a member of the first class in journalism Mr. McCoy ever taught and the first editor he ever trained.

A New York Journal American sports writer, Jack Singer left one of the most coveted sports assignments, the Giants' training camp in Florida, to go to the Pacific for International News Service. He was killed during a naval action in the South Pacific a week after writing one of the great stories of the war in the Pacific—an American torpedo plane's attack on Japanese warship.

Party Marks Semester End For Press Club

The Press club and friends of El Don staff will have dinner together this evening at the Winds with a theater party later, Junior Sondericker, president of the organization stated today. "We are anticipating an hour or two of relaxation in the Broadway winging "Frenchman's Creek" this issue of El Don is the last of the semester."

Resolved

By JEANETTE SHOOK

Echoing the resolves we all must have made when the whistles and bells sounded at midnight between December 31 and Jan. 1, students around the J.C. campus promise to themselves many reforms.

The best of these (Some made resolutions which are unprintable and cannot appear here!) are the following:

Resolved: Not to talk so much—Flossie Fainbarg.

To become a professional skier—Helen Asher.

Either to study or not study, but not to worry about it—Lois Bacon.

To get up earlier in the morning—Jackie Townsend.

To go to church every Sunday—Virginia Daniger.

To get all "A's" hereafter—Gerry Sphar.

To get homework in when it is due—Shirley Anderson.

To write at least one letter a month to everyone know in the service—Dorothy Hamilton. . . and so on. From which thoughts we could all learn to discipline ourselves; except that this is not supposed to be an editorial.

It has been rumored about that Bob (Big-Man-of-Campus) Miller made a resolution to the effect that he will in the future pay all his back dues to the Tri-W. A., which means exactly what you think it means! It is also of popular opinion that his pal, Kenny Gabriel is determined to stay at J. C. for three years, if necessary, until he is put up to run for A. S. President. He says: "4th Term Grisette will have to quit sometime!"

The gals had a tough time thinking of good resolutions this year, mainly because of all the football boys withdrawing from school. . . At any rate, resolutions are good for us all—provided we stick by them; even if they are made only once a year.

Phi Theta Kappa To Convene In Spring

The National Convention of Phi Theta Kappa will be held in Little Rock, Arkansas this spring. Helen Webbekeing is the only member of Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society who returned to jaysee this year. Helen, who is registered in night classes, was president of Alpha Gamma Sigma, the state honor club, last year, and gained admission to the national group in February.

Phi Theta Kappa is a national organization in junior colleges. The best students of jaysee are chosen for membership by the faculty. California colleges have only three active chapters of Phi Theta Kappa; Santa Ana, Sacramento, and San Marin jaysees. Compton and Glendale chapters have been inactive for several years.

In the past, Santa Ana has sent a delegate to three national conventions in the East or South, and a delegation of five to the conference held in Sacramento in 1942.

'ARMA VIRUMQUE'

Another Don Letter-of-the-Month went into the mail bag in December. It contained five pages of news and two cuts, one of the office force at work and another of the "Davy Don Chariot." In a cut line Mr. McCoy explained that the Davy Don "was conceived by Capt. Gordon Burlingame and represents jaysee riding high and handsome over enemy territory on regular missions in the European theater."

A report of the Don football season with the "blaze of glory" at the end and final standings together with news that the Board of Education is going ahead with the purchase of a site, comprise most of the strictly local up-to-the minute doings. Excerpts from letters received by Mr. McCoy furnish our men now in the service with most welcome news of former associates in college.

SIGMA PHI SIGMA MEETS

Sigma Phi Sigma will meet on Jan. 15 at the home of Mary Olive Tozier, on North Park Blvd. The time of the meeting has been set for seven-thirty.

The meeting will consist of a musical program, with vocal selections by Frances Irwin, Mary Olive Tozier, and Kenneth Hall, according to Rose Marie Meric, concert mistress.

Plans for the Sigma Phi Sigma concert will be discussed at this meeting. The date of the coming concert has been tentatively set for April 20.

Students of the music department are appearing on various programs in the city and contributing to the music of the community.

Mary Tozier sang Dec. 17, recitatives from the "Messiah" by Handel at the First Methodist church. On Monday evening, Dec. 18, she appeared in a recital in St. Mary's Hall, Fullerton, with excerpts from the "Messiah" and "O, Holy Night," by Adam.

Mary sang again for the Methodist church party on Dec. 20, "Always" by Berlin, and "Mary's a Grand Old Name," by Cohen.

Sunday morning Dec. 24, she led the Junior choir in a choral prelude. A Sunday school party on the day after Christmas, Mary sang a duet with her sister, "Silent Night," and on Jan. 1, at a tea, negro spirituals and other numbers. Her latest appearance was at the service tea Wednesday held by the YW, at the chapel of the Methodist church.

SAMUEL BENNY

Samuel G. Benny has been chosen organist of the First Methodist church in Orange and also organist for the Beth Shalom Temple in Santa Ana. Benny formerly held the position of organist at Christ's Cathedral in Salina, Kansas, and later was engaged for the same work by the University Methodist church at Salina.

Calendar Display

Under the auspices of the art department the reference room of the library is exhibiting for the month of January a brilliant display of calendars. These calendars are reproductions of paintings done by junior and senior high school students in a nation wide contest.

The United States Time Corporation under the direction of the Women's National Institute conducted the contest which was judged by prominent artists headed by Howard Chandler Christy.

Twelve grand prizes of two hundred dollars each went to students—three of whom were girls and nine, boys—in various states of the country. One hundred thirty-five paintings won honorable mention and a cash prize of ten dollars.

Dons Bring Home State Trophy Five Dons Make State Teams

Coach Bill Foote and his Don basketball team arrived home Monday from the state tournament at Modesto carrying their hard-won runner-up trophy. The Dons were not expected to advance as far as they did, but a dogged fighting spirit carried them through to the finals of the championship flight before they bowed to Modesto. Pasadena, defeated by Modesto in the first round, won the consolation tournament handily.

Dons Drub Salinas
In their first round game the Footmen easily defeated the Salinas Panthers, 52 to 42. Scoring rapidly on set shots by Dick Conde and Jack Pickering and tip-in by Fred Shand the Dons led at half time 35 to 20. In the second half they eased up letting the second five play for more than a quarter.

Scores Upset Over Compton

Santa Ana went into its semi-final game with Compton as a decided underdog since the Dons average 5' 11" as compared to the Tartars average of 6' 2". In addition, the Compton forwards were exceptional players, one having been all-L.A. City forward while in high school. The SAJC men went into the lead at the immediate beginning of the game on a field goal and free throw by center Fred Shand. From then until the last quarter the Compton team led. At half time we trailed 15-11. Fighting all the time against a rough adversary, the Dons, led by Pickering and Conde, began moving late in the third quarter to overcome a 6 point lead. Jimmie Davis sank a field goal with six minutes left to play in the game and put Santa Ana ahead 30-29. As he did, the crowd, which was 100 per cent for us, let out the most tremendous roar ever heard in that stadium. Compton came right back with two points, but again lost the lead when Dick Conde sank two in a row. The Dons kept ahead on baskets by Davis and Jack Woodsmall and the game ended 37 to 33.

Spectators and contestants alike said that it was the best game of the tournament, and that the Don team had the best team spirit and determination to win of any in the tournament. Revealing was the fact that Compton lost the game because of their rough play. Both teams made 28 points on field goals, but Santa Ana was granted thirteen foul shots and made nine of them.

Modesto Wins Final

Helpless against a "hot" ball club which had a 6 foot 7½ inch all-tournament center, the Dons bowed to Modesto in the championship finals by a score of 51 to 32. The crowd, which was naturally for Modesto, still liked us for our spirit and not once were the Dons booed. Floyd Hopper, Compton guard, led Santa Ana's organized cheering section in yells. The section was composed of players from Salinas, Compton, Pasadena, Fullerton, and Reedley.

Modesto led at the half 28-13, but kept their first give in the game when Jack Pickering began sinking them in the fourth quarter. Ron Livingston, the Pirate center, scored 16 points and Charlie Hicock made 15 to lead their team to victory. Pickering was high for the Dons with 12.

WAA INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

The installation of new WAA officers for next semester is scheduled to take place as the terminus to an afternoon outing on bicycles in the Orange county park on Saturday, Jan. 20. The women are to meet in front of College Hall at high noon on Sunday with their nose-bag lunches and tennis rackets, baseball mits, etc. From there they will bicycle to the park and be met by their adviser, Miss Crawford, who will bring all of the equipment up to the park in her car.

The afternoon will be spent playing tennis and baseball. The women are extending a challenge to all comers. Members who do not have bicycles are urged to come to the party by other means and to join in the festivities.

Vivian Thompson is in charge of signing up those who wish to attend. Jeanette Shook heads the advertisement committee, and Beekie Franklin is in charge of all equipment.

WAA Hockey Opens With Tustin Tuesday

The jaysee's Woman's Athletic Association has scheduled its first hockey game of the season with one of the consistently best hockey playing high schools in the county and have hopes of making a good showing.

The WAA will field their first team against the seniors of Tustin high Tuesday, Jan. 16. The Tiller field will be the scene of the match.

The jaysee women have only one real practice under their belts, but they hope to run a high score if not win the game. Tuesday, Jan. 9, was the opening of the after-school season for the WAA at Lincoln school field. The season promises to afford many good games as the interest is high and a number of veteran high school hockey players along with novices to the game made up a large turnout.

Though the girls have not had much practice as yet, Miss Crawford feels that improvement will be forthcoming and that a strong team will result. If interest holds, the jaysee women will schedule games with the nearby schools.

New Type of Class To Be Offered

Miss Crawford, women's athletic instructor, made arrangements with Mr. McCoy, recently for the instigation of an entirely new type of class. Because of the war and the difficulty for working girls to participate in after school sports, a two o'clock gym class has been arranged which will give not only class credit but will be considered for WAA credit. From this class will be formed teams to compete with other schools in the seasonal sports.

The class will be limited, however, to those most interested in WAA sports activities. Members shall be chosen by Miss Crawford. All girls interested in this arrangement are urged to consult Miss Crawford for more details.
